Tres' Take

Hospitality

I love Chick-fil-A. If I am ever near a Chick-fil-A, you can be sure that I am making a quick stop. They have a great chicken sandwich. But what I really love about Chick-fil-A is how they treat me as the customer. They're always smiling; they're always positive; they're always trying to make me feel good. They inspire me as the customer to say with a smile, "Thank you." And when I do, they always respond with, "My pleasure." So not only do I get a great chicken sandwich, I actually feel good about eating fast food! In the competitive world of fast food restaurants, Chick-fil-A often earns the best ratings and "wins" the customers because they practice a hospitality that is unmatched in the industry.

The Church can learn a lot from the local Chick-fil-A in terms of hospitality. No, we're not selling chicken sandwiches. We're not selling anything. What we are called to do is share the Gospel message that God loves us unconditionally in and through Jesus Christ. And making people feel welcome can go a long way in helping us to share the Good News!

Hospitality is a key component for a growing and Christ serving faith community. A church can have a great staff, solid programs, and wonderful faculties. It can even have the mission to love God, love others, and make disciples. But, if people do not feel connected to others or included in the faith community, they will not stick around and get involved in the ministry of Jesus Christ, and the church will not produce numerical fruit. In contrast, a Christ-centered community that is welcoming, invitational, and enthusiastic about what Christ is up to in its midst, is one that bears fruit, not only numerically, but spiritually as well. We are called to share the good news of the Gospel. Therefore, we are called to practice hospitality to our longtime Covenant Partners and the first-time visitors and everyone in between.

Our focus for 2020 is Hospitality. The Session and subsequent our Commissions are in the process of evaluating our level of hospitality. We are looking at everything from our signage and safety procedures to our in-house and public media to our welcoming habits and ushering and greeting from the perspective of the visitor. Speaking of welcoming, we are going to hold a Welcoming Training evening in the Telle Center on Wednesday, March 25th from 6:30-8:00 p.m. This training will be led by me and Kate Anderson, who has a degree in Hospitality. We are a friendly faith community. At this training, we will talk about how to be even better!

God is up to some great things here at Trinity United! Let's share what He's doing with all who come into our midst!

Welcome! Melissa Fletcher

Submitted by Pastor Tres Adams

Please join me in welcoming Melissa Fletcher as our new Director of Music Ministry! Melissa comes to Trinity United with years of experience as a church choral director. Melissa is also accomplished on the keyboard and is a skilled organist. She has a BS in Music Performance, Piano and Bassoon from San Francisco Conservatory of Music, among other academic achievements. Melissa will be conducting our choirs and working with our men's and women's ensembles, as well as Echoes of Joy handbell ensemble. She is friendly, easy going, and has a great sense of humor. Above all, Melissa has a desire to glorify God with music and worship, and she is already a wonderful addition to our Trinity United Staff.

Welcome to the Family Melissa!

Vacation Bible School June 1-5 for Bible Boot Camp

The purpose of VBS Boot Camp is to train, prepare and equip all of our "little soldiers" to stand their ground and fight the good fight in the ageless battle between good and evil. Children will be enlisted in VBS as "privates", marching around our campus to cadences and songs, crafts, games, snacks, saluting one another and preparing to be good soldiers for Christ. We need volunteers to be Staff Sergeants, Sergeants, Drill Sergeants, First Class and Master Sergeants, maybe even a General or two. Just email Command Sergeant Major Becky at beckypombo@gmail.com.

Listen Sermon Series

Submitted by Pastor Tres Adams

Jesus said, "Let anyone with ears, listen!" (Matthew 13:9). Taking the words of Jesus to heart, our 2020 Lenten sermon series is entitled Listen. Beginning with the first Sunday of Lent on March 1st, we will prayerfully listen to what Jesus is saying in God's Word. We will spend much of Lent working through Matthew 13, which includes The Parables of the Sower, the Weeds, the Mustard Seed, and the Yeast among others. Jesus told parables to the people as He explained who God is and what the Kingdom of God was like. As we journey through these parables, we pray that the Holy Spirit will grow our faith and lead us to faithfully respond to God's love for us in Jesus Christ.

New Covenant Partner Class

Submitted by Pastor Tres Adams

We will hold a New Covenant Partner information class on Sunday, April 5, 2020. The class will be from 11:00 a.m.–1:30 p.m. in Telle 502, and lunch will be included. This class is to learn more about Presbyterianism, our Reformed faith, and the movement of ECO, as well as to meet with Elders (elected officers) of the church. If after attending this class, you desire to become a Covenant Partner (member) of Trinity United, you will be invited to officially join during worship on Sunday, April 19, 2020. Please RSVP to the Church Office if you are interested in attending this class so that we can be sure to have enough food.

Lamentations

Submitted by Parish Pastor Rev. Les Malakian

Have you ever been in such emotional pain that there are "no more" tears? That is what the daughters of Zion are expressing when they say, "My eyes fail from weeping." Lamentations is an account of what is to be the destruction of Jerusalem by the Babylonians. It appears God has abandoned them due to their sin. In this state, their pain and suffering is inexplicably horrid. The "daughters of Zion" cry so much that there are no more tears. Ever experience anything akin to this? I have a couple of times in my life. Yet, it was in the deepest sorrow, in the darkest hour, that Jesus came and picked me up, wiped off my tears, and enabled me to smile again.

Repeat the power of the words of Psalm 23 and you will experience His comfort and love.

"Yeah though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, Thou art with me. Thy rod and Thy staff they do comfort me . . ."

Praise Jesus, He is our comforter!

God bless you,
Pastor Les

Discipleship

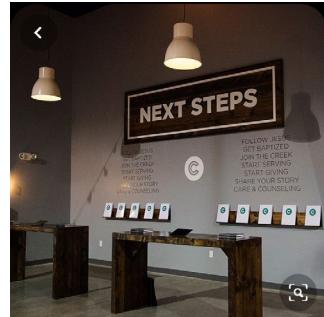

What's up with the silhouettes? Do you recognize their faces? In the month of February you may have noticed some silhouettes in the narthex. This was our attempt to connect the current series "Heroes" with the world outdoors. The silhouettes are super heroes Clark Kent and Diana Prince aka "Superman and Wonder Woman". The newspaper behind the faces was also part of the theme. Any news regarding super heroes whether fiction or real, is pretty big news within a city. So using the newspaper as the background for the silhouette made sense.

During the month, the silhouettes spurred a lot of conversation across the generations of Trinity United. As always, we're continuing to learn about the church community. Specifically we're learning how we connect themes and start conversations regarding faith that are carried outside of the church walls. We're always looking for creative ideas and participants to help with this planning. Got an idea? Let's chat.

Part of this same discussion involves materials and information on education. Over the past few months, we've tried to put current information regarding groups and meeting times in communal areas like the narthex. This conversation leads into a current conversation happening in Formation Commission regarding our narthex. We want to make the narthex helpful for new comers and directional for the seekers. The picture to the right has a step towards a modern narthex. By no means have we decided on what our narthex should look like. But it's a good start to thinking of Covenant Partners and Visitors.

Adult Formation Hour

Submitted by Bob McGrew, Mission Outreach Commission

The April-June quarter class offered at the 8:30 AM hour will be titled "Let's Talk Outreach."

This class is sponsored by the Mission/Outreach Commission and will be led by Bob McGrew (209-735-0029) and Chris Currie (209-652-5976).

It will highlight local mission programs that Trinity United supports with the hope of appealing to those who want to further our Lord's work in the Modesto area. The first three classes will feature videos from 'Organic Outreach'. They will show us how to live the kind of life that naturally draws people to Jesus. This should help us to prepare our hearts for participating in the LOVE MODESTO ministry on Saturday, April 25.

In May and June we will get to meet people from local ministries such as the Inter-Varsity and Youth for Christ. In addition to hearing about their work, we will also hear about opportunities for us to join them in ministry.

We hope to 'Talk Outreach' with you on Sunday mornings beginning April through June!

As a reminder, mark your calendar for March 29 for MISSION UPDATE Sunday! Look for our 2020 brochure in the information racks about campus highlighting Trinity United supported missions, their contacts and brief description.

Young Adult Ministry

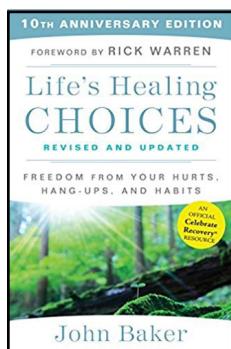

Reflection and Projection

Submitted by Wade Patton, Director of Young Adult Ministry

What another great month of ministry. Young Adults ministry is definitely beginning to flourish. Last month we spoke of “The Bowl Challenge” Part 2.

The challenge was entitled “Can you Keep it alive? Participants were asked to keep a plant alive for a month. College and Young Adults. Again our participants were to water and watch over their plants. The real goal was for each person to relate the plant to their own heart. Over the month they were asked how does the plant relate to their own care during the week. Many plants died but the point was well received.

In the midst of our bowl challenge part 2, we started a new book study “Life’s Healing Choices” by John Baker. We read this book before in 2018 and I was blessed to hold a 10-week Sunday School Formation class in 2017. Prior experiences of study by both groups proved to be extremely positive. The book is based on Matthew Chapter 5, The Beatitudes. John Baker walks the reader thru “The Kingdom mindset according to Matthew. Once again we saw a very positive response just after week two again. To change it up a little, we are seeking other safe physical places to go thru our study. If you have any suggestions, please let me know.

A unique opportunity was presented to me during my time in Dallas, Texas. To be completely honest this opportunity was an answer to prayer. Escalon Presbyterian Church invited us to participate with other believers in their “Barn Worship Night”. This is an opportunity to sing songs with a live band in a barn. The band was made up of community musicians none of which are a part of the worship team at the church. The audience was also made up of the community as well. In total there were 50 people singing, praying, reading and testifying to the goodness of God. It was awesome. We are looking forward to going back and taking more people to this unique opportunity.

MARCH 2020

The Trinity Trumpet

Last but not least we love to hang out and party. So on February 2 we hosted our first Super bowl Party. We had 15 participants. We learned from this event. Even though we had great attendance and more food than we knew what to do with, if we’re going to invite the whole church then we need to get the word out quicker so people can plan. Got it!

Literacy Tutoring at Trinity United

Submitted by Peggy Prevette, Elder

On January 26, Pastor Tres preached a sermon entitled, “The Answer”. He was referring to answering calls from the Lord. The scripture (I Samuel 3-4:1a) describes Samuel being called by God four times before Samuel remained still except to reply, “Speak, for Thy servant is listening.” We learn that God called Samuel to relay a difficult message to We at Trinity United have been called to serve our community in a special (and not so difficult) way beginning in the fall of 2020. We have been given the charge and the opportunity to partner with Learning Quest, Stanislaus Literacy Centers, to provide English literacy tutoring to adults on our campus as an affiliate to this non-profit organization.

On March 29, during the Formation Hour (8:30 a.m.), Missions Commission will be presenting more information about getting involved with this project. Mark your calendars and set an early alarm—you won’t want to miss this presentation.

What we have done:

Youth Staff—

January - February

The youth staff team is quite the group, filled with many giftings, passions, and styles. I am proud of the team taking a week with our series “A Hero’s Vision” characters. Saylah Robles shared an enthusiastic rendition of Ruth and her journey; Rick Crabtree encouraged us with the story of the calling of Samuel; and Clayton reminded us about David’s giant he faced and knowing what we have as our weapons. Each leader got the opportunity to talk about how these biblical heroes’ stories apply to our lives today.

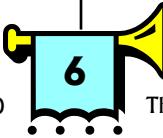

TUPC Valentine’s Feud—February 12th

The Valentine’s Feud was an entertaining night for all in attendance. Our very own, Pastor Tres hosted the game and was a great sport in wearing a bedazzled bowtie, red sequined vest with black velvet blazer. Steve Harvey, who, am I right? Thank you, Becky for having this idea, putting this together and allowing me to be a part; you truly did tremendous job! To those who helped put it together: we are definitely grateful!

MARCH 2020

Where we are going:

Connections—March 2020

In the month of March, we will be doing a lot of connecting: we are talking about connection through prayer, connections in the Bible, connection with each other, and connection in worship. The last Wednesday of the month, we will be combining our youth service with another local youth group and doing a worship night. Community is important in the Kingdom of God, and we look forward to worshipping and glorifying God with one another.

What else:

Youth Specialties Article—February 5th

In February, an article I wrote in a Youth Specialties, a popular website for youth ministry, was featured. The title of the article is “We Were Wrong About Youth Ministry”; it is an open apology to youth from youth pastors.

Though I do not want anyone to get the idea as they read it that I have shame for missing the mark, I do believe that we as leaders do not always take the time to acknowledge we are not perfect. My heart while reading it was reflective in knowing that I have messed up, but I am so grateful for the Lord’s grace and redemptive work. The goal was to recognize this imperfection, but also be encouraged that we all fall short sometimes and we are not alone. I have been asked to write more in the future, and am excited for what God will do with it.

Making Jesus Christ Kids' #1 Super Hero

Jesus Christ: Super Hero: Faster than a prayer on wings, more powerful than dynamite, able to leap over any problem.

For the last several weeks Pastor Tres has been walking us through HEROES of the Bible and it got me thinking about Childhood heroes — we all had them — they are a timeless element of childhood that allows kids to look up to someone greater than themselves. Kids aspire to be like their heroes. Today's kids have a range of heroes, some with questionable reputations, such as Britney Spears or Harry Potter. Others are undoubtedly the best in their field — Tiger Woods or Venus and Serena Williams. And since the attacks of September 11, 2001, community figures such as firefighters and police officers have once again gained hero status.

Who was your childhood HERO?

So where does Jesus Christ fit in? "I wanna be like Jesus" — isn't that what we want our kids to strive for?

Kids need to know that Jesus isn't someone who just lived more than 2,000 years ago; he also lives today. Jesus is the ultimate hero. In an article written by Carmen Kamrath, she looks at some of the characteristics that draw kids to heroes and how those same characteristics can be found in Jesus Christ.

The Professional Hero vs Jesus the Professional

The professional athlete and the successful business tycoon portray the characteristics of the hero who's an expert in a field. Kids are drawn to this hero not only for the expertise but also for the power and wealth that often accompanies this hero.

Today's kids desire to be successful, and they don't question that this quality is achievable for them as they grow older. Kids dream of one day being a professional athlete, the next Bill Gates or a Pulitzer Prize-winning author. Having a hero who's a professional gives kids hope for the future and a goal to achieve. The professional hero is where legends are born.

Jesus the Professional

Born a carpenter's son, Jesus learned his father's trade and, more than likely, he was good at it. His expertise in the art of carpentry isn't what makes him memorable; it's his unique knowledge of intimate details related to God.

And that's because Jesus is God. Jesus demonstrated that he was God by performing miracles, resisting great temptations, and teaching life-changing lessons despite his age or lack of education. His business practices are legendary, using ordinary people to do extraordinary things. Because of who He is, He has the ultimate power.

The Problem-Solving Hero vs Jesus the Problem-Solver

Abraham Lincoln, James Bond, and Mary Poppins all have an answer when there doesn't seem to be one. Whether it's solving a political issue that could change the future or providing a remedy to make the medicine go down, kids like a person who seems to have all the answers.

Kids are curious by nature and enjoy the challenge of solving a problem. Characters such as James Bond display quick thinking in a tight situation. Abraham Lincoln was able to think past the country's problems to ensure a solution for future generations. Heroes who are problem-solvers inspire kids to create a better future. Problem-solvers challenge kids to be the person who finds a cure for cancer or discovers a new way to teach kids with autism.

Jesus the Problem-Solver

When the wedding party ran out of beverages, Jesus found a way to provide more. When faced with a hungry crowd and few available resources, Jesus came through with food to satisfy people's hunger. And when he had a boat full of friends who were fearful that they'd die in a storm, Jesus assured them they'd be safe.

Jesus faced many problems and he never shied away in fear or doubt. His problem-solving skills still apply today, and His answers can beat the toughest of situations. Jesus always knows the way home.

Next month tune in to hear about the Fearless Hero, The Superstar Hero, The Good Hero and the Immortal Hero.

Garrison and Enslen

Submitted by Sandy Jostad

The Good News Clubs at Garrison and Enslen Schools continue to meet each week. Last week a child who had prayed to receive Jesus came for counseling after the Bible lesson. When asked why he had come he said "I want to learn how to grow closer to God". What a privilege to be there to help them to know Jesus and to do just that - grow closer to Him.

In the curriculum Jesus: God of Power and Glory we have loved teaching The Lord's Prayer. Each of the phrases have been broken down, explained and then used as a memory verse for each week. In our small groups we are able to discuss how that particular part in the prayer relates to our personal lives.

In the song Did You Ever Talk to God? the children are reminded that God is listening 24-7, they can pray anywhere, they can pray silently or out loud, that God is interested in their highs and lows, and God answers prayer. We can see the children growing in their understanding of who Jesus is and how to walk the Christian life. The Salvation Song says "Change my life and make it new, and help me Lord to live for you."

We know God's Word promises to permeate their hearts, and that talking with Him will reveal His great love for them. Just as Jesus taught us how to pray, it is a privilege to teach these little ones how to raise their voices in praise to the Lord.

In a couple of weeks we will begin teaching God's Church Expands: The Ministry of Paul. This is a powerful series revealing the work of the Holy Spirit in our lives and in the body of Christ. We are showing the powerful video The Story of Jesus for Children for the second time this year because it really shows Jesus in His power and glory. We are looking forward to an Easter party to celebrate our risen Lord!

Garrison School has continued to average 15 in attendance. At Enslen they had been averaging 12 before Christmas, but a second permission slip school wide was sent out again in the hope that more would come. All the students already coming were sent personal postcards to remind them of the startup time. When they started after Christmas only four came! One of the four, who has difficulty focusing, came back the next week with his Quiet Time Sheet completed, his Bible Study Helps Sheet finished, and his memory verse learned. Having the club was worth it for this one little boy! The following week they had 10. Pray that Satan doesn't have victory in keeping students away. The Lord wants to do a mighty work in each of these student's lives. We appreciate the Prayer Team and special individuals who hold the Good News Clubs up in prayer regularly. Thank you for praying for the teachers and the children. Remember - "The effective prayer of a righteous man accomplishes much." (James 5:16) To have a mighty work it must be bathed in prayer.

Prayer Requests:

1. That more students would turn in permission slips and come to the clubs.
2. That the Holy Spirit would work in the hearts of the children to read God's Word and pray.
3. For health and wisdom for the teachers as they teach.
4. That Child Evangelism Fellowship would receive the funds and find the right location for a central office.

Mission Update

Submitted by Bonnie Crabtree

The gospel never grows old. Actually, the more one learns the more powerful it becomes. It changes a life for time and eternity. I am off again to share this good news where it isn't so easy to obtain. In April I am heading to the Middle East, back to the same place where I ministered on the first overseas trip I took 3 years ago. I am so looking forward to seeing and encouraging them. I'm even hoping I will have a chance to see a young man I connected with and have stayed in contact with over the internet. We have had several conversations about God, Jesus and the Bible and God opened the door to share the gospel with him. Please pray with me that he surrenders his life to Jesus.

The next trip will be in July to London. The UK has a lot of Muslim activity and this will be our primary focus on this trip. This trip looks like it will be the most intense trip I have been on yet. The afternoons will consist of several hours of training on witnessing to Muslims. Beginning late afternoon up until 9:00 pm we will be street witnessing, handing out pamphlets and materials and speaking to whomever will listen.

I am so excited about both of these trips. I am amazed that God would use someone like me to do His work. Please pray that I will stay focused on walking in step with the Spirit, go in obedience without fear, and be bold in my witness. Pray God prepares hearts and minds to receive the good news and escape the snare of the devil.

If you would like to be on my mailing list, please send an email to crabtreelighthouse@outlook.com and ask me to add you to my prayer partner team.

Save The Date: April 25! LOVE MODESTO

Bob McGrew for the Mission/Outreach Commission
(mcgrewr5@gmail.com)

We hope that you'll reserve the last Saturday morning in April for participating in the LOVE M O D E S T O outreach! This is our only annual church-wide program for bringing the love of Jesus to local places off of our church campus. Last year saw 26 members of our church work on beautification and landscaping at Garrison School. We were joined by 10 non-Trinity United people who signed up on the Love Modesto website. It was a great time to meet new folks while working and fellowshiping alongside them.

This year we hope to have groups from Trinity United join others from our community at Garrison School along with at least two other sites. We'll emphasize talking with new acquaintances as much as getting work done. In fact, the Spring Sunday School class starting on April 5, 'Let's Talk Outreach', will have videos from the Organic Outreach ministry that show us how to speak the kinds of words we use in ordinary conversations to reveal the presence of a loving God. Even if you are not able to do physical work, there will be opportunities to do a ministry of caring and encouragement. So we ask each of you to pray to see if God is leading you to reserve Saturday, April 25 for 'loving on' Modesto!

Summer Fellowship Sunday

This summer Trinity United will have the weekly fellowship time again and are looking for Host Teams. We would love to talk to you!

Please contact Esther Bradfield or Julie Anderson or look for us soon on the patio to sign up.
